Won't you come and be with me where it's relatively normal

We can have a getaway from the outside world.

V2. We went down to get a bite where the clown plays with the children
Tumbled out the door and piled the family in the wagon
Merrily we munched until the hooded gang took over
Looks like they are everywhere now in The Outside World.

V3. William went to school today concealing a revolver
Wanted just to scare the kid who talked about his mother
In the cafeteria, Billy opened up and shot him
Now he's looking through the bars at The Outside World.

V4. Here's to all the innocents who died on nine-eleven

I would think it likely God has welcomed them to Heaven

And to those who think that they have got away scott-freely

There is no place you can hide now in The Outside World.
